To Whom It May Concern:

As a Kallah teacher here in Yerushalayim, I often see how confused many young women become when learning to keep their calendar for Taharas Hamishpacha. Many are frustrated and feel they will never master the mathematics involved in calculating the times of separation correctly. All are eager to keep the mitzvot to the best of their ability, truly trying to understand and learn.

Imagine my delight in discovering the wonderful online calendar www.mymikvahcalendar.com! Here is a calendar that not only calculates all Onos HaVeset, but explains and teaches the user along the way. Clear instructions, video Tutorials and use of colors give the user an invaluable tool in keeping their calendar correctly and remembering to do the required bedikot on time. The SMS and email reminders, as well as the efficient technical assistance provided, are indispensable and can only improve the performance and observance of these essential halachot.

I greatly enjoy using it and am gratified to see how much it has benefited the kallahs and women that I teach. Many women I know, who were, unfortunately, hardly keeping the calendar at all, have been amazed to discover how easy it can be using this online calendar and have undertaken to be more stringent in keeping this important mitzvah.

To the entire team of Taharas Hamishpacha International and Mikvah.org - Kol Hakovod for making this worthy project a reality. May Hashem bless you and your families with all the brochot and segulot that come from careful observance of the laws of prisha. May the zchus of diligently keeping our private home's "mikdash me'at" reunite us all very soon in the Third Beis Hamikdash ממש ומיד ממש.

All the best,

Keren Vardi
